FOR WHEN THE WORKADAY WORLD IS A LITTLE CLOSER TO HOME

HIDDEN HISTORY

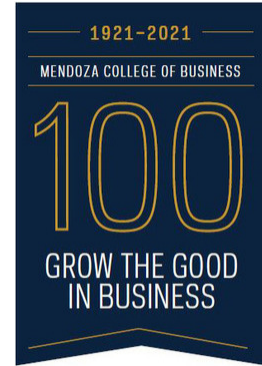

In 1954, a 30-hour master's program was established at the College by Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., to serve men and women from Catholic religious orders who needed graduate work in business or who held administrative positions with hospitals, colleges and other institutions. Originally called the Master of Business Administration program, it is the oldest graduate program at Notre Dame.

When the College launched its two-year MBA program in 1967, the original program was renamed the Master of Science in Institutional Administration, which was later shortened to Master of Science in Administration.

In 2005, the non-residential program was renamed the Master of Nonprofit Administration (MNA) program. The change was made to better reflect the primary purpose of the program – to prepare participants for leadership roles in nonprofit organizations, including social service, various religious ministries, education and the arts.

In 2019, the College welcomed its first residential MNA cohort of early-career students, and the non-residential program for working professionals became known as the Executive MNA.

"Hidden History" celebrates the series of people, moments and events that collectively constitute 100 years of Mendoza's history as we approach the College's centennial in 2021. Do you have a little-known bit of trivia to contribute? Email us at mendozabusiness@nd.edu.

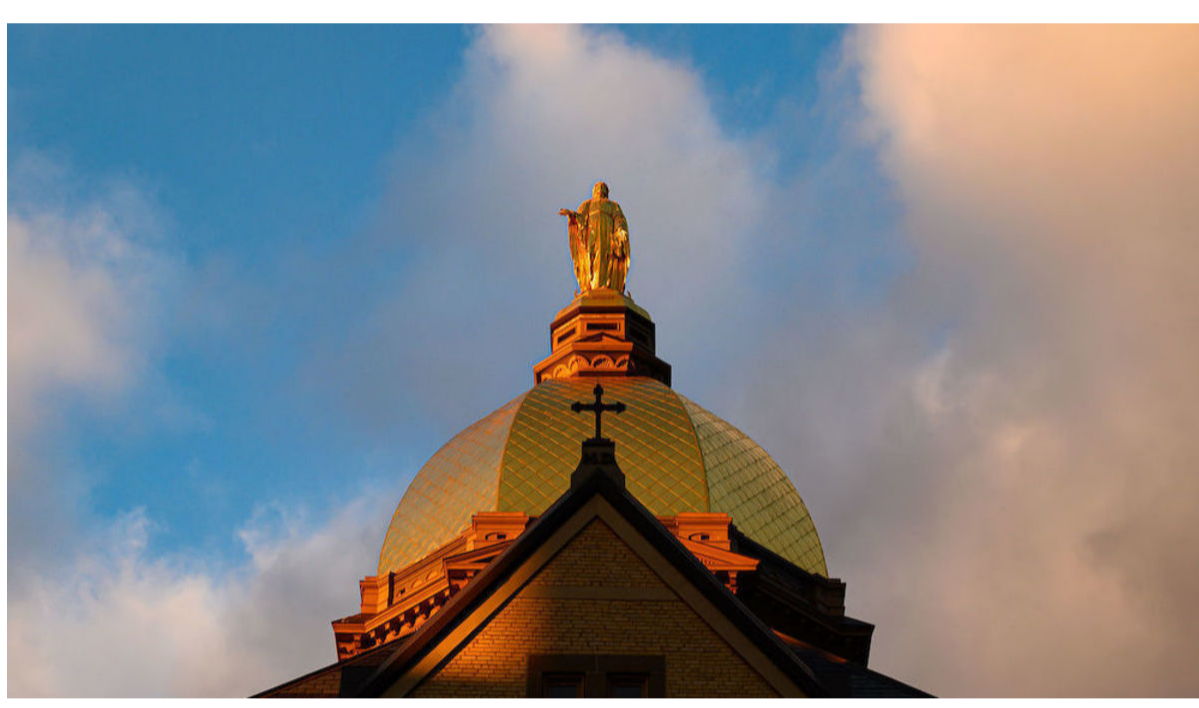

THREE CHEERS

Undergrad's Dale Nees said: "Shout out to Lisa Heming for her efforts in coordinating and administering the (virtual) Admissions event for MCOB admitted students in the Class of 2025. There were 166 prospective early admits who participated in the event last month with more events planned for this month for regular admits."

Each week, we'll highlight some of the ways our colleagues Collaborate, Contribute and Compete in order to Grow the Good in Business. Please send your nominations to mendozabusiness@nd.edu.

PRESIDENTIAL AWARDS NOMINATIONS

REMINDER! Submit a nomination by April 23, 2021 to recognize and reward staff who exemplify Notre Dame's core values or make significant achievements in support of the University. Any faculty or staff member of the University community may submit a nomination.

Exempt and non-exempt staff members are eligible for one of the following three Presidential Awards:

Presidential Values Award: The Presidential Values Award recognizes a staff member who lives the University's mission and is a role model who embodies all of the University's core values.

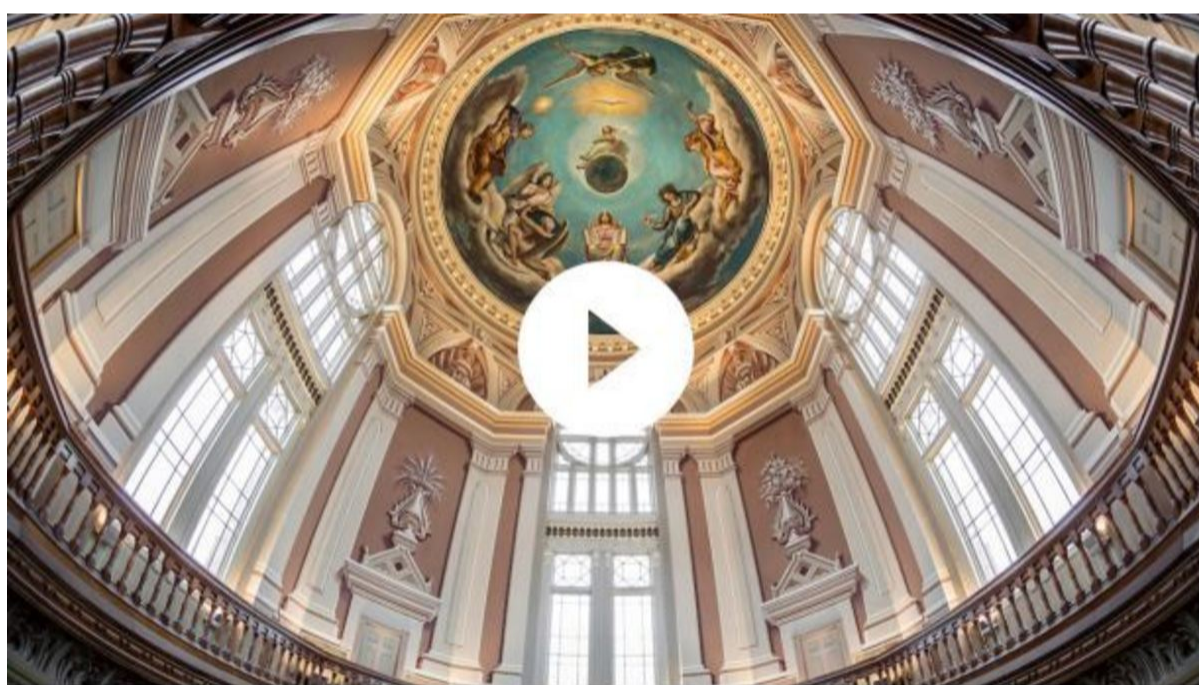

Presidential Achievement Award: The Presidential Achievement Award recognizes a staff member who has accomplished a significant achievement during the past calendar year and whose actions represent the core values.

Presidential Leadership Award: The Presidential Leadership Award recognizes a staff supervisor who demonstrates the principles of servant leadership.
